

Commission for Protection against Discrimination's Opinion on the Misogyny and Sexism Case in the Programmes of Three Radio Stations

Skopje, 16 February 2018 – Further to the submission that the Agency for Audio and Audiovisual Media Services had submitted to the Commission for Protection against Discrimination concerning a joint campaign produced by the SITI Radio, Klub FM Radio and the Metropolis Radio Network, the latter sent a letter in which it expressed its opinion, concluding that gender-based harassment had been committed on the part of SITI Radio, causing an insult to women's dignity, with spots of the campaign 'for overly emancipated women', aired on 30 October 2017. The letter of the Commission for Protection against Discrimination of RM is available at this link.
